

Slot Manager®

ascendgaming.com/sm
AN ASCEND MEDIA PUBLICATION

The Official Publication of
E3
GAMING
STANDARDS
ASSOCIATION

THE Total Slot Resource • January/February 2007

Keystone Slots

The Mohegan
Indian tribe
launches
Pennsylvania's
premier slot parlor

INSIDE:

Executive Q&A with LVGI's Stephen Crystal
A closer look at Wheel of Fortune Super Spin

A SUPPLEMENT TO IGWB & CASINO JOURNAL

QUICK HITS

News and notes from the international slot industry

COMPILED BY MARIAN GREEN

Macau casino to get PacificNet gaming machines

PacificNet Games Ltd. has been selected by Holiday Inn Macau Casino to provide multi-player electronic gaming machines.

"The selection of PacificNet Game's electronic gaming machines by the leading hotel-casinos in Macau marks the beginning of PacificNet's transition away from the low-margin telecom business into the new high-margin gaming business," said Tony Tong, chairman and chief executive officer of PacificNet. "We have excellent existing relationships in Macau and we will continue to very actively pursue this area. After some early success, we believe that we are well-positioned to expand our sales of gaming products to the hotel-casino operators in Macau and rest of Asia."

Densitron debuts new dual-core gaming board

Densitron Gaming's new DPX-117 is the first industrial computer board to offer today's latest dual-core CPU technology on a board specifically designed for the gaming industry.

The DPX-117 supports Intel Core Duo and Core 2 Duo CPUs, which have dominated the mobile computing industry with revolutionary performance and groundbreaking power efficiency, Densitron said in a news release.

Intel dual-core technology significantly improves performance in multi-tasking environments and multi-threaded applications by providing two physical processing units.

Dual-core technology, together with virtualization technology, offers many other advantages for gaming applications. For example, allowing secure partitioning of software applications, running dual operating systems on one board, critical applications like IO and COMs services, and system updates can run in the background without slowing down the systems' graphics performance, the company said.

The DPX-117 will be on display at the ICE tradeshow Jan. 23-25 in London.

Novomatic's AGI showcases innovation at G2E and ICE 2007

Novomatic's Austrian Gaming Industries GmbH offered a sneak peek at its enhanced Coolfire II platform and showcased multi-player innovations at the Global Gaming Expo.

At ICE 2007 in London this month, it will pull out the stops to present the Duo-Vision cabinet and the new SuperGaminator cabinet, incorporating AGI's new Hybrid Technology. The company will offer 11 new Coolfire II games, including 20-line, five-reel games, Hannibal of Carthago, Inca-themed Cities of Gold, and Chicago. In addition, the new version of Multi-Gaminator will be on show, plus a selection of recent game releases as well as new electronic table games. Among the highlights are expected to be Novo TouchBet live-game versions of SicBo and baccarat running on the server-based Novo Unity multiplayer platform.

At G2E, highlights included not only the table game innovations, but also video slots, such as Reel Rally, and the retro-styled, five-line, three-reel Threee! Also making an impact was the single-player roulette product, Universe Roulette.

Aristocrat, Bally developing common download system

Aristocrat Technologies and Bally Technologies are combining their resources and expertise in download and systems technology to develop a common download and configuration system and associated protocols.

The Downloadable Configuration Manager (DCM) will allow content download and configuration management and will be designed to co-exist with both companies' slot and casino management systems, using Gaming Standards Association's S2S protocol and other manufacturers' devices that communicate GSA's G2S protocols. Game content will be proprietary to each manufacturer's game cabinet and platform.

With a combined install base of more than 70 percent of casino management systems in North America, "Aristocrat and Bally are poised to produce what we believe will be a very compelling product for this sector of the gaming industry," said Paul Oneile, chief executive officer and managing director for Aristocrat Leisure Ltd.

"Our customers will benefit from this arrangement as we push for open industry standards developed specifically for this exciting new phase in the gaming industry," said Richard Haddrill, chief executive officer of Bally Technologies. "This spirit of cooperation among two technology leaders will go a long way toward an overall download implementation that benefits both operators and players."

Cantor signs deal with Atronic, Aristocrat

Cantor Gaming, an affiliate of the global financial services company Cantor Fitzgerald, has signed slot content licensing agreements with Aristocrat Technologies and Atronic Americas LLC.

Under terms of its agreement with Cantor Gaming, Aristocrat's game content will be offered via Cantor's mobile gaming system to wireless, handheld devices in casinos worldwide. Under terms of the agreement with Atronic, Cantor's mobile gaming system will be the exclusive carrier of Atronic's mobile slot games in Nevada and other U.S. jurisdictions.

SlotManager

Looking for more up-to-date news from the gaming marketplace? Visit the Gaming Headlines newsfeed at www.ascendgaming.com.

AGI's Reel Rally

COMPILED BY MARIAN GREEN

Cadillac Cash WAP debuts in Washington

Cadillac Cash, a new wide area progressive offered by Cadillac Jack, is up and running in four casinos in Washington state.

The new progressive features instant cash payouts, multiple game themes linked to a common progressive, and expected average jackpots of $250,000.

Cadillac Cash

Cadillac Cash is currently operating in four casinos in Washington as a Class II wide area progressive. "Developing our Wide Area Progressive demonstrates Cadillac Jack's commitment to our customers and players by creating games that offer players more excitement and larger jackpots, and provides our customers with higher revenues," said Mike Macke, chief executive officer of Cadillac Jack. "We are very pleased with the strong interest and play that Cadillac Cash is already receiving during the rollout phase in Washington and are eager to introduce it into new markets with the expectation that players, both domestic and international, will be drawn to its great features."

Cadillac Jack has teamed with the Puyallup Tribe, a long-standing customer, to host the wide area progressive. "We are already experiencing a high demand for the progressive, as players are responding enthusiastically to the entire presentation of the brilliant display sign, popular game titles and growing jackpot," said Herman Dillon, tribal chairman of the Puyallups.

The unique progressive features instant cash payouts with an expected average jackpot of $250,000. Featuring multiple game themes linked to a common progressive jackpot, Cadillac Cash is anchored by three of Cadillac Jack's top performing games, Rock Paper Scissors, Dr. StrangeLuck and Lusty Devil.

The return of "Charlie Hustle"

Global Gaming Expo attendees did their share of double takes and U-turns on the first day of the November show when they walked past Kodiak Gaming's booth and spied Major League Baseball's hits leader signing pictures at a table next to new the "Charlie Hustle"-themed video slot machines.

Pete Rose was on hand at the Las Vegas Convention Center to sign autographs and promote his new slot machine "Pete Rose is Charlie Hustle."

"I believe the energy and excitement that I brought to the game of baseball will be felt by those who play the new Charlie Hustle slot machines," Rose said in a news release.

Kodiak Gaming has reached an exclusive licensing agreement with publicly traded Dreams Inc., which, through one of its subsidiaries, The Greene Organization, holds the exclusive licensing rights for Pete Rose. Exact terms were not disclosed, but Matt Olsen of Destin, Fla.-headquartered Kodiak Gaming said the agreement does call for MLB hits leader Pete Rose signs autographs at Kodiak Gaming's G2E booth.

Rose to personally promote the game at various casinos.

AC Coin debuts Seaside Fries video slot

AC Coin & Slot announces the release of its newest video slot, Seaside Fries.

Developed with IGT, the game combines video slots and mechanical bonusing and boasts a rocked-out version of "Under the Boardwalk" and multiple fun "Free Spin" events.

"We have had incredible success with our Advanced Slotto games, like Break the Bank and Popcorn Slotto," said Chris Strano, vice president of sales and marketing at AC Coin & Slot, "and now we are taking that same technology and introducing it to the video slot player with Seaside Fries."

Seaside Fries is a progressive capable, 20-line video slot and is offered on IGT's Game King Plus platform, which features a 19-inch LCD touch-screen monitor. The game also has the crowd-gathering Advanced Slotto top box, in which Slotto balls branded with multipliers bounce out of a "fry basket." The video portion features animated characters and items found at a boardwalk eatery such as hamburgers, hot dogs, waitresses and, of course, French fries. The bonus game top box features AC Coin's Advanced Slotto technology with an upgraded lower-maintenance bonus mechanism.

SlotManager

